

PATENT

ABSTRACT

Drift in the reverse breakdown voltage of a surface zener diode is substantially reduced by forming a layer of material that includes

5 titanium before or after the metallization steps that are used to form the first layer of metal (the metal-1 layer) or the second layer of metal (the metal-2 layer).

10

10555949v1
072219-0278259 (P05108)

-19